Ransom Everglades School
Faculty Member, STEM (Mathematics and Computer Science)

Ransom Everglades School is seeking applications for a full time, Upper School teacher of Mathematics beginning in August 2020. This faculty member will teach mathematics courses, with additional courses in computer science and/or the physical sciences, and other duties assigned depending on the experience of the successful candidate. Ransom Everglades offers a range of courses in mathematics and science, including AP courses in statistics, calculus, computer science, and physics, as well as elective courses in linear algebra, applied calculus, data science, computer science, and engineering. The department seeks a candidate to help the department take advantage of its new location in a state-of-the-art STEM building, and innovate in curriculum, especially in computer science, applied mathematics, and interdisciplinary studies. Candidates with the background and interest in incorporating programming into the math curriculum are especially encouraged to apply. Candidates should be prepared to contribute to the department’s ongoing discussions about interdisciplinary learning within the structure of our new STEM department, best practices in the use of technology in the teaching and learning of mathematics and science, and be comfortable with the school’s value for inquiry-based, student-centered learning. Prior teaching experience in is required; prior independent school teaching experience is preferred. Applicants must have at least a Bachelor’s degree in mathematics or a related field; a Master’s degree is strongly preferred.

Founded in 1903, Ransom Everglades School is an independent coeducational day school located in the historic bayside neighborhood of Coconut Grove within the City of Miami. Guided by the words of founder Paul C. Ransom, Ransom Everglades School seeks to produce graduates who “believe that they are put into this world not so much for what they can get out of it as for what they can put into it.” Total enrollment is approximately 1125 students in grades 6-12. Ransom Everglades serves a talented and diverse student body that reflects Miami’s status as a center of international business, culture, and the arts. Roughly half of the students come from multicultural backgrounds, and almost thirty different languages are spoken in the homes of our families.

The mission of Ransom Everglades School is to provide an educational environment in which the pursuit of honor, academic excellence, and intellectual growth is complemented by concern for the physical, cultural, and character development of each student. The school provides rigorous college preparation that promotes the student’s sense of identity, community, personal integrity, and values for a productive and satisfying life, and prepares the student to lead and contribute to society.

Candidates should email a completed application (also found on the school’s Employment web page), a cover letter, a CV, and unofficial transcript to careers@ransomeverglades.org. Finalists will be invited to campus for an in person interview and teaching demonstration, and will be asked to submit at least three references and/or letters of recommendation.
