Faculty Member, Upper School Physical Education

Ransom Everglades School is seeking applications for a full time, upper school teaching position in the Physical Education Department, beginning in August 2020. This faculty member will teach introductory paddle sport courses. Additional duties assigned will depend on the experience of the successful candidate. Candidates with experience in football, volleyball, lacrosse or baseball who can contribute to the distinctiveness of the Ransom Everglades community are especially encouraged to apply.

The mission of Ransom Everglades School is to provide an educational environment in which the pursuit of honor, academic excellence, and intellectual growth is complemented by concern for the physical, cultural, and character development of each student. The school provides rigorous college preparation that promotes the student’s sense of identity, community, personal integrity, and values for a productive and satisfying life, and prepares the student to lead and contribute to society.

To take advantage of our location on Biscayne Bay and continue Paul Ransom’s emphasis on experiential learning and outdoor education, all freshmen are enrolled in a physical education course that includes modules in paddle sports, sailing, swimming and personal fitness.
